

Amennone Cero

"Someone" rites (within a discussion), "until there is a remedy that all understands to remove the mark, it works within their system to use their legalese against them." My question: are you using their corporate mark aka legal name? If so, then you are funding the legal construct by activating the berth bond. While you may believe yourself to be let alone now...such may quickly change in the future. Consider how motivated the legal actors are to get you into a long term prison sentence so that they may milk the berth bond for all its worth. The only possibility of avoiding this option is to make it impossible to access your life force energy which is effected by means of no legal agreements.
