

Amennone Cero

"My name is the same as the legal fiction". Well then, that is not your name now is it? Your mother gifted the name (you are now stealing by means of unauthorized use) to the corporation. You then went and bought a copy of that name for fee (birth certificate at vital records). You bought that name from a legal fiction(vital records STATE OF). You are never once authorized by said legal fiction to ever once use that name in commerce. You broke natural law in your covetousness of legal commercial benefit. It was never once your name. Creation is not good enough. BAR attorney LIARS know that which is best for you.

losethename.com